NAVILLUS IS PROUD OF KATE CLANCY
& PROMOTING THE NEXT GENERATION OF INDUSTRY LEADERS

Navillus is proud that it's Project Manager, Kate Clancy was selected as one of this year's 20 Under 40 Outstanding Women in Construction by Professional Women in Construction. Kate has been with Navillus for over 5 years and in that time, she has become a true asset to the company and we are thrilled she is being recognized by such a prominent industry organization.

Navillus encourages and supports the growth and development of its employees and this is a big win for the entire team at Navillus. We can only build buildings as strong as our team and we wouldn't be who we are today without the talent and dedication of our employees.

All of Navillus senior management have been with the company for over 20 years and many employees have worked with the company for over 10 years. Navillus strives to encourage employees, like Kate, to grow in leadership ranks within the company. Kate has overseen over $40 Million in projects for Navillus, that includes iconic names such as the WTC Observatory, 2nd Ave Subway, Grand Central Station, Empire State Building and Hudson Yards Tower A and C. It is exciting to think about the bright future that she has ahead of her.

Navillus recognizes how fortunate it is to have such a strong team and is dedicated to promoting the next generation of industry leaders. Organizations, like Professional Women in Construction, offer an important platform for building a strong, diverse and inspiring group of A/E/C leaders and Navillus is a strong supporter of its mission.
